Computer Forensics

Forensic Accounting/Litigation Services Group

Our Expertise Works for You

Computer forensics is a term that everyone is hearing these days. Computer forensics experts apply specific investigative techniques to recover, authenticate, and analyze information created with, or stored on, computer systems. Computer forensics is vital to the legal process and can be used during discovery, deposition, and actual litigation in a wide range of matters.

Specialists in this discipline utilize an array of methods for discovering electronically stored information that resides in a computer and various types of storage media.

We Have the Experience You Need!

At Sobel & Co. our team has a depth of experience that includes investigations of:

- Intellectual Property Theft
- Misuse of Resources
- Hacking
- Fraud
- Release of Personal and Sensitive Information
- Propriety Information Release
- Harassment and Employment Disputes

Additionally, we are skilled with:

- International and Large-Scale Data Collection
- Establishing Compliance Reporting Programs
- E-mail Analysis

Our well-respected techniques, delivered by professionals with the highest technical competency, enable us to help our clients under the most difficult and sophisticated circumstances.

The Forensic Group at Sobel & Co. has a reputation for looking beneath the surface and going beyond the obvious.

It is critical in any investigation involving electronically stored information that the team has a good understanding of the situation. The more background provided, the more effectively the hidden information and vital data can be uncovered.

Services Offered

Whether in a proactive or reactive mode, we are proud of the wide range of service we deliver, including:

- Identifying Sources of Digital Evidence
- Data Collection
- Hard Drive Imaging
- Content Analysis
- Data Filtering
- Secure Storage and Chain of Custody
- Data Collection Project Management
- Network Security Evaluation
- Incident Response
- Expert Testimony
- Tape Restoration
- E-Discovery Processing
- E-Discovery Hosting

Using tools and resources at our disposal, Sobel & CO. conducts a systematic computer forensic inspection, successfully combining two key disciplines - computer investigations and analysis techniques - to find the optimum solutions for our clients.

Sobel & Co. Adds Value for You

Founded in 1956, Sobel & Co. is a premier certified public accounting and consulting firm headquartered in Livingston, New Jersey. As a result of the firm's strong commitment to the business community, and in response to their evolving needs, we have established a number of different professional teams that offer both traditional and nontraditional services to assist our clients and help them reach their goals.

The Forensic Accounting/Litigation Services Group is an example of the firm's visionary approach. We know that forensic experts have the experience needed to more efficiently identify the signs of criminal activity, quickly recognize concealed clues, spot the best places where evidence may be hidden and develop an effective plan for uncovering additional relevant information.
