Partnership in Philanthropy names new member to their Board of Trustees

Chatham, NJ, September 27, 2010 ... Chatham-based nonprofit Partnership in Philanthropy (PIP) announced today the election of Michael Fedun, Senior Auditor at Sobel & Company in Livingston, NJ, to its board of trustees. Fedun was named as a trustee at PIP's September board meeting.

At Sobel & Co., Mr. Fedun specializes in the nonprofit sector. His clients include: Catholic Charities, Patriots Path Council, Share and Care Foundation of India, the CJ Foundation for SIDS, NJ Tap Dance Ensemble, the Independent College Fund of New Jersey and Visiting Homemaker Services of Warren & Hudson Counties.

Mr. Fedun evaluates organization's internal controls, policies and procedures to understand and evaluate the flow of financial data and reviews clients' financial statements, schedules and processes. He also provides comments on improving the controls in place to mitigate errors in financial presentations in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Mr. Fedun received a B.A. in Business Administration from Hofstra University in Hempstead, NY and is currently pursuing CPA certification in New Jersey. He was a member of the Beta Alpha Psi Honorary Organization and the Golden Key International Honor Society while at Hofstra.

According to PIP Executive Director Heather Robinson, “PIP is thrilled to have such a talented member of the community in support of its mission. Michael brings a wealth of financial expertise to PIP’s current board, and it’s with great pleasure that we announce his joining us.”

Founded in 1991, PIP provides assessment, consulting and training to nonprofit organizations, and since its inception has provided technical assistance, training and professional fundraising consulting services to arts, education, health and human service organizations in all 21 New Jersey counties.
